

Principesco
Brunello di Montalcino
1997

“Dark, almost inky garnet. Exotically perfumed nose of violet and Indian spices. On the palate there are raspberry, mint, juniper and marzipan flavors, and the lingering finish conveys ripe berry fruit. Plush and harmonious, with medium to full body and suave tannins, but not quite as concentrated as the vintages strongest examples. Still, this offering from a cooperative of 25 small growers is a splendid effort.” - Edward Beltrami for STEPHEN TANZER'S INTERNATIONAL WINE CELLAR - Issue 103
