

Rascioni & Cecconello Poggio Ciel iegio 1999

Very dark ruby. Opens with mature dark fruit scents, pipe tobacco and sage. Then makes a big impression on the palate, offering layers of cherry and raspberry confiture, noteworthy vitality and very smooth tannins. The finish is long and sweet, sustained by liqueur-like raspberry. A savory and complete wine. It is unusual – and a pleasure- to taste purebred cilieggiolo, an indigenous Tuscan variety, especially when it is so deftly crafted, as in this case, by consultant Attilio Pagli.
